MESA DEFEATS PHOENIX 2 TO 1 IN 9TH INNING

Pepper's three batters with one on in the ninth inning broke up an exciting one-one tie game at Eastlake park yesterday afternoon and put a dent in Duke Cross' perfect record against the Mesa baseball club.

Duke was going fine, intent on making his last appearance one long to be remembered; he held the Mesa players to seven hits and one score until Pepper cut the ropes. He cracked a long fly to the outfield taking three bases while the winning score was crossing the plate.

Pepper had a good day slugging a single, double and triple in four times at bat.

Rittelle, playing third base for the All Stars knocked the longest hit ever made at Eastlake park sending the ball to left field fence for three bases.

Moore played a wonderful game at short for Phoenix accepting 14 chances without an error.

Gill worked for Mesa up to the sixth inning when he retired in favor of Lefty Lush.

Close to 800 fans watched the game which proved to be one of the most exciting diamond contests played in the valley in several months. The two teams will probably play a return game next Sunday, but Duke will be missing from the lineup.

Scores: R H E
Mesa 2 7 2
All Stars 1 11 4
Batteries: Gill, Lush and Wheeler; Cross and Ed Scott.

French Universities Will Send Athletes To Penny Field Meet

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—A relay team representing the combined universities of France will take part in the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival here April 29 and 30.

Definite word to this effect was received today by the Pennsylvania relay management.

More than 40 American colleges and universities have accepted invitations to participate in the carnival. They include Nebraska.

ST. PAUL PRO. WINS 4 RACES

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 30.—Everett McGowan, St. Paul professional skater, won four races from Art Staff, of Chicago today.

The war medal of Italy, which is about ready for distribution to soldiers who wore the uniform between May 25, 1915 and November 13, 1918, is reported to be so ugly that it has provoked almost universal discontent. On one side is the head of the king, and on the other of the medal is shown a naked ballet girl full face, standing straight up, which they say, is supposed to represent Victory.

JOE COSBURN AND JEM MACE FOUGHT
THE LONGEST ROUND IN HISTORY: 1 HOUR, 2 MIN.
(London Press-Telegram Rules)

BY ROBERT L. RIPLEY

It isn't often that brothers emulate one another. Usually one member of the family is favored with all the talent and the others are neglected. There are many instances, however, where the goddess of fortune has shown more equity, and we find brothers sharing the honors, as the Ishabars of the tennis courts, the Boes and Colmans of football fame, the Coveleys and Delehantys of baseball, and the Twin Sullivans of boxing.

Just now we have the Mitchell brothers of Milwaukee basking in the spot light. These young boxers—Richie and Piusky—believe in keeping the money in the family, as they are managed by their own brother, Billy Mitchell. They are a clean cut, up to date trio, and a credit to the boxing game. And what is more, they are not afraid. Both fought such as Tedder, Jackson and Britton, and Benny Leonard. It is a question which of the two brothers is the better fighter.

Jim Jeffries had a brother Jack, who aspired to be a fighter, but was cured by the same black draught that was administered to Jeff—namely, Jack Johnson. Johnson knocked out brother Jack in five rounds in 1902.

Abe Attel had two brothers in the ring—Monte and Caesar. Monte did pretty well, but Caesar was a dismal failure. Terry McGovern's brother, Hughie tried to be terrible, too, but succeeded in a manner different from his famous brother. The Forbes boys Harry and Clarence, fought very well for years. Harry winning the bantam championship at one time. The Gardners were good fighters, too. Jimmy was a mighty good featherweight and George used to claim the light heavyweight championship.

The Cross family is of a later date and the most numerous of all. Seven members of this fighting family tried to exist without the ropes. The most famous and successful of them all was Leachess. Phil, Marty, Dave and Sam did fairly well, as a matter of fact, Marty is still fighting and is a good, tough opponent for anybody. Leach Cross fought them all for many years, an excellent and interesting ring man.

Benny Leonard has a brother Charley who once promised to be a better man than Benny himself. Charley was the amateur featherweight champion of the United States at one time, but was too lazy to train properly and soon gave up the game.

At present there are several sets of brothers in the ring besides the Mitchells. The Gibbons boys of St. Paul, Mike and Tommy, are both great fighters. Mike has retired now, but Tommy is clamoring for a fight with Dempsey. Lou and Dave Bogash of Bridgeport are a good set—particularly Lou, who may be a champion at an early date. The White brothers of Chicago, Charley and Jack, are still fighting, although both are near the end of their careers; and out in Australia there is a young brother of Les Darcy who looks like a wonder.

REPUBLICAN SOCIABILITY BIKE RUN HUGE SUCCESS; THOUSANDS WATCH ST. ONGE DEMONSTRATION

Yesterday's Sociability bike run was a wonderful success, over 300 riders taking part in the ride to the Indian school grounds where the riders and several thousand spectators watched St. Onge perform on a bike.

Two hundred and seventy-five bicycles parked in front of the Republican office for a panorama picture just before the run started at 2 p.m. Before the parade reached the Indian school grounds the line had increased to 350 and when the fun started at the Indian grounds 3,500 spectators formed a circle around the cyclists, the riders in the center and automobiles formed the outer circle. Souvenirs were distributed as far as the supply reached and St. Onge promised to send an additional hundred to the local bicycle dealers for distribution to the riders who did not receive the souvenirs yesterday.

Fifteen motorcycles with the city speed cop cleared the passage for the riders following St. Onge on his high wheel. W. W. Wells, Major Duncan, John C. Watmore, editor and manager of the New York Evening Mail and official handicapper of the Long Island Wheel club, led the procession. St. Onge stated last night that Phoenix has the best disciplined boys and girls it has ever been his pleasure to watch in his long career as a bicycle demonstrator. About 20 girls riding wheels pedaled with the procession to the Indian grounds. Not a single accident occurred to mar the day's pleasure.

Waldo Lyon, an old time trick bicycle rider and now a resident of Phoenix, was there to help in the entertainment of the boys and girls. Lyon has promised to assist in future demonstrations to be given under the auspices of the wheel club which will be organized in Phoenix at an early date.

The Phoenix cycle dealers were in the parade and acted as hosts at the Indian grounds, where 1,500 ice cream cones donated by the Donofrio confectionery were distributed to the riders and spectators.

The exhibition of St. Onge was greeted with continued applause and requests to continue. He illustrated the correct manner in which to ride a wheel and the wrong method by taking several spills. His trick riding even drew laughs from the Indians assembled to see the demonstration. The boys are anxious to have St. Onge give another demonstration and many requests were made for his return. He goes to Los Angeles this morning where he will spend the next two weeks arranging for a big coast sociability ride.

The bike riders and spectators were well pleased with the Republican's big Sociability run and the entertainment provided during the afternoon. It proved the bicycle is still a big factor in everyday life, both for health and for pleasure. With 350 bikes in the procession and hundreds who were unable to join in the run, bicycle enthusiasts still insist that modern motor propelled machines have not entirely supplanted the old time wheel.

An air mail and passenger service between Manila and other large ports of the Philippine islands will soon be begun.

Denies Yanks Will Purchase Grounds From Orphan Asylum

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Denial that the New York American league baseball club is about to purchase the grounds of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum for home field was made tonight by J. E. Newburger, president of the institution. He declared, "There is no option outstanding for the sale of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, nor are there any negotiations pending."

Roger Hornsby Will Play Under Cardinal Hold Over Contract

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30.—Roger Hornsby, National league batting champion, tonight denied he had signed a new contract with the Cardinals, as was announced last week and said he would play under a holdover contract. New terms offered were unsatisfactory, he said.

The city of Denver has made provision for the construction of an automobile chaser, a powerful armored car with racing ability.
